

FRUIT FLIES POSE A CONSTANT CHALLENGE

Flies, mosquitos and similar insects are, in most climates, a seasonal infestation. With the onset of cold weather they will disappear until the following spring.

Not Fruit Flies.

They are a constant presence, all year long—appearing whenever they can find the right conditions.

A persistent pest like the Fruit Fly needs a control solution that will prevent infestations around the clock and around the calendar. That's why Paraclipse designed the Fruit Fly Patrol.™
